Note from Dave Berry: Three other members of the 504th participated in Normandy in a significant way. These were Charles Billingslea, Willard Harrison, and an enlisted man named "Crook." All three jumped with General Gavin on a 508th aircraft, and landed in the 507 zone! The two officers served as "staff" of Task Force A. "Crook" was recommended to Gavin by Tucker as "the toughest man in the Regiment" and served as Gavin's bodyguard. This is written up in Gavin's "On To Berlin".
